Funchal, November 2-8, 2015

And We Keep On Growing!

This year we have 157 pairs in the tournament. It's another record broken. We have players from all over Europe and America - North and South.

Yesterday's session

South.

The Austrian couple Sylvie and Franz Terraneo lead the Pairs' Tournament, after getting 66.17% on the first session.

Marjukka Raines and Eeva Parviainen are the Finnish pair who got 64.16% and are now second overall.

The Dutch pair Lucia Grosmann and Han Bégas are third, 1.73% behind the Finns.

The local pair Miguel Teixeira and Nuno Pereira are 4th with 62.09%.

Today we play the second session. All is still to be decided. All prizes are still within reach of many pairs but they will have to work hard for them.

A Cunning Plan

By Mark Horton

On this deal from the warm up pairs, declarer found a clever way to bring home a tough contract:

Board 16. Dealer West. EW Vul.

♠ J 7 ♥ 5 4 ♦ A Q 9 8 2 ♣ 10 5 4 3		♠ A 6 5 4 ♥ J 9 8 6 2 ♦ 10 ♣ J 2
♠ Q 10 9 ♥ 3 ♦ K J 6 4 3 ♣ Q 9 7 6	♠ K 8 2 ♥ A K Q 10 7 ♦ 7 5 ♣ A K 8

West	North	East	South
Larssen	Thiele	Larssen	Verdegaal
Pass	Pass	Pass	1♠
Pass	1NT	Pass	3NT
All Pass

East led a spade and West won with the queen and returned a spade. When East ducked declarer won in hand with the king and cashed the ace and king of hearts. When West discarded a diamond prospects appeared poor, but Mark Thiele found an answer.

He exited with a spade.

East could win and cash two more tricks in the suit, West discarding a club and a diamond.

These cards remained:

♠ - ♥ - ♦ A Q 9 ♣ 10 5 4		♠ - ♥ J 9 8 ♦ 10 ♣ J 2
♠ - ♥ - ♦ K J 6 ♣ Q 9 7	♠ - ♥ Q 10 ♦ 7 5 ♣ A K

When East exited with the jack of clubs declarer won, cashed the remaining top club and placed the queen of hearts on the table. West, down to ♦KJ6 ♣Q was forced to admit defeat.

That gave NS a well deserved 68% on the deal.

The Commentator's Curse

By Ron Tacchi

Last year for the first session of the Open Pairs I sat and watched Hans Metselaar and Allie Hoenstok from The Netherlands, So, keen as ever, to start a tradition I ensconced myself behind them. I was slightly late arriving and they had scored close to 75% on the first two boards they played - 19 & 20. On the first they played in 3♦ doubled only failing by two non-vulnerable tricks as an excellent save against the vulnerable game. On the following board they extracted the maximum from it when a defender decided to duck a finesse into his hand then was never allowed to make his king. But as usual the commentator's curse took immediate effect and they then suffered a string of poor results. Here is a prime example:

Board 2. Dealer East. N/S Vul.

♠ K J 4 3 ♥ Q 4 ♦ 10 8 6 4 ♣ Q 10 9	♠ A 9 7 5 2 ♥ 9 8 6 5 ♦ 2 ♣ J 8 6   N   W E   S  	♠ Q 8 ♥ A K 10 2 ♦ A K J 7 ♣ A K 5
	♠ 10 6 ♥ J 7 3 ♦ Q 9 5 3 ♣ 7 4 3 2

On this board the opposition bid gaily to 6NT and with North on lead he unerringly selected the ace of spades as his opening lead, the only way to give declarer a genuine play for the contract. She won the spade continuation in dummy, cashed the diamond ace and returned to hand to lead another diamond towards the tenace. When North showed out she rose with the king and cashed the ace and king of clubs and came to hand with the queen. When the king and jack of spades followed, discarding two diamonds from dummy, she now had a complete count on the hand. Strictly speaking the odds now favoured the heart finesse against the jack as North had four to South's three. The four of hearts now hit the green baize and after what seemed an eternity she spurned the finesse to land her contract. If she had taken the finesse and it had failed the contract would have been down two, whilst if she played for the drop and she was wrong she would only fail by one trick, perhaps the favourable lead persuaded her to take the option where even failure would give her close to the same score as all other pairs that attempted the slam.

28 pairs reached the slam and seven were successful and the other six were all played by East who nearly always received the helpful lead of a small diamond.

The following board was also a poor result:

Board 3. Dealer South. E/W Vul.

	♠ A K 8

	♠ Q J 7 3

After an excellent bidding sequence with both parties trading cue-bids the good contract of 7♣ was reached. The opening lead was the four of hearts which ran round to declarer's ace. He then cashed the ace of diamonds and immediately ruffed one in dummy, whereupon he cashed the ace of trumps and returned to hand with a trump to his queen. He then tried to ruff another diamond but unfortunately West was now out of diamonds and still had the jack of trumps to take the setting trick. Unlucky to find the diamonds 6-2.

The question is can declarer find the winning line? There appears to be two main lines of play: ruffing two diamonds in dummy or ruffing two hearts in hand and in both cases there is the question of timing of the ruffs and the drawing of trumps. Whichever suit we tackle if there is no doubleton then the contract is simple. If we assume that a 4-1 split in the trump suit will render the contract too difficult, then we must assume the trumps to be divided 3-2. A priori the chance of a 6-2 split is half that of a 5-2 division. Thus it would seem playing on diamonds is twice as unlikely to founder on the rocks of distribution. The next question is how can one minimise the effect of a bad split? In the line adopted by declarer above had he not cashed the ace of trumps then all would have been well. To my mind not cashing the ace works when West has the doubleton diamond and three trumps (and also some cases where he has a doubleton trump) and cashing the ace works when East has the doubleton diamond and two trumps. The theory of vacant places states that the three trumps are more likely to be with the short diamonds and so not cashing the ace appears to be a slightly superior line.

I upped and left after half the boards. Hans and Allie then recovered slightly to be above 50% at the end of the session. I have offered to accept money to not watch them today.

The Gathering Storm

By Mark Horton

The Gathering Storm was the first volume in Sir Winston Churchill's history of the Second World War. It was used as the title of a BBC-HBO co-produced television biographical film about Winston Churchill in the years just prior to World War II. The title of the film is that of the first volume of Churchill's largely autobiographical six-volume history of the war, which covered the period from 1919 to 3 September 1939, the day he became First Lord of the Admiralty.

Winston was greatly revered in Madeira - when he arrived in Funchal aboard the liner, the Durban Castle on the 2nd of January 1950 a surprise warm welcome was awaiting him and his family. The English residents had heard about his arrival and along with the locals crowded around the harbour shouting : "the man who saved the world!"

He came to the island to recuperate from the fatigue and possible ill health from which he had started to suffer.

On leaving England he wrote to his beloved friend Lord Camrose (the man who gave his name to the trophy which is contested by the home nations of the UK and Ireland in what is the world's most played International Bridge Series) saying: "a fortnight`s sunshine is in our hopes, and some weeks or months, or other things, in our minds."

So far, the competitors here in Madeira have enjoyed some glorious sunshine, and the only storm clouds in sight have been at the bridge table.

In Tuesday's opening session I watched a few deals involving one of the favourites, Jan Jansma & Jan van Cleeff.

Going on to 4♥ is a matter for the individual conscience. You have a good hand, but partner's raise is known to be on the weak side (with any kind of good raise he can bid 2♠).

(In the warm up pairs Tacchi picked up ♠2 ♥A8732 ♦Q3 ♣AK985. After two passes his RHO opened 1♠ and he overcalled 2♥. When I raised him to 3♥ he went on to game and the next player, with ♠6 ♥KJ54 ♦AJ954 ♣643, was not slow to double.)

On a good day East would have started with a doubleton king of hearts, but here declarer was doomed from the start, and a slightly less than accurate line led to two down and a poor score, only 25.3-128.7.

The Terraneos went on to score 66.17% to top the leader board.

On the next two deals, my men faced Romania's all time Master Point winner, Dan Zara and Valentina Petrova.

On Board 9 Jansma opened 2NT on ♠Q10 ♥AQJ4 ♦AJ65 ♣AK4 and was left to play there facing ♠7653 ♥762 ♦74 ♣J1076.

Zara had passed with ♠AKJ842 ♥K963 ♦Q10 ♣Q and happily cashed the first six spades. Declarer pitched two diamonds, a heart and a club, but when East continued with the ten of diamonds West withheld the king, so declarer 'escaped' for two down - 100 and 83.1-70.9.

East was somewhat under strength for his rebid.

South led the seven of spades and North won with the queen and returned the jack, South overtaking and continuing with the eight. Declarer won with dummy's king, played a club to the ace and a heart to the ten and queen.

Back came the two of diamonds and declarer went up with the ace and advanced the jack of hearts, covered by the king and ace. Declarer cashed two clubs and then overtook the eight of hearts to escape for one down, -100 and 76/78.

If South refuses to cover the jack of hearts declarer plays a heart to the ace, cashes two clubs and exits with a spade, scoring the ♦Q at the end.

Valentina and Dan scored 57.74%, good for 15th place.

On Board 24 South, looking at ♠98 ♥Q ♦KJ876 ♣AQJ72, and saw his partner open 1♠. He responded 2♦ and when his partner rebid 2♥ he marked time with 2NT. He then had to make a decision when his partner jumped to 4NT.

One might bid 6♣, but a recent study by David Bird in his excellent Winning Duplicate Tactics suggests that in this type of situation you should play in no-trumps.

I was expecting 6NT, but eventually South elected to pass.

Partner's hand was ♠AKQ105 ♥A1094 ♦A10 ♣106 and it was impossible to take less than 13 tricks, NS scoring 62.8-91.2. It was a good score for Esmeraldo-Martins.

On Board 26 EW held ♠AJ92 ♥64 ♦Q64 ♣A1087 opposite ♠KQ ♥AKQ832 ♦KJ3 ♣62 and bid 1♥-1♠-4♥. I fear I would have gone on to the excellent but doomed slam - the hearts were 4-1. Stopping short gave Denmark's Sonja Bech & Mette Sand a healthy 58-96 on their way to 59.86% and 9th place.

4♥	Dble	All Pass

3NT Gambling

With a suit that was far from solid West's gamble was due to fail, but South twisted the knife with his well timed double, which asked for a heart lead.

Declarer could not avoid the loss of a spade, four hearts and two diamonds, -800 and 148.5-5.5 for NS.

Musaoglu & Elbe had a good day, their 61.34% leaving them in 5th place.

My featured pair might not be aware of these wise words from Winston Churchill:

Success consists of going from failure to failure without loss of enthusiasm, but they had managed to score 60.77% against some solid opposition to finish the day in 6th place.
