Sunday 11th November

Bulletin 7

We Will Meet Again Next Year

After a titanic struggle during the last round where the lead was changing from board to board the winner was the team Forfot who rose from fifth place beating Astro by 34-4. Nuno Matos had a huge last round win of 33-0 against Synergia Lublin to move from seventh to second position. Long-time contenders Team Sara Silva had a draw which gave them third place

THANK YOU ALL for taking part in our 21st year of the Madeira International Bridge Open!

To everyone who has come back to our bridge tournament it has been a pleasure to have you here in Madeira again. To everyone who has visited us for the first time I hope you have enjoyed it and I hope you will return. Without you, the players, this event is not possible. Once again we have a record number of entrants. Every year I look forward to this as it is my favourite time of the year for I get to do what I like most: play bridge, welcome old friends, make new friends and make the experience better than the previous year.

Your feedback is very important to us. So if you have any ideas as how to improve the tournament please do not hesitate to send us an email with any of your suggestions. The changes to the Saturday timings and the lunch were as a result of input from players.

Have a safe trip home and see you next year from the 4th to 11th November for the 22nd edition!

José Curado explains how to verify the deals using Hans Staveren's procedure.

In short, if someone wants to check that there is no hanky-panky going on with the procedure they should:

- 1 – Download the "present key" from <http://bit.ly/2018pKs> or click on link in footer menu on new website
- 2 – Check Euromillions lottery numbers (the "future key")
- 3 – Download the "past key" from <http://bit.ly/2018pKs2>
- 4 – Run the program (download from <http://www.xs4all.nl/~sater/SquareDeal.zip>) using the 3-part key according to the instructions – the "present" and "past" files and insert the 5 numbers and 2 stars, as presented in the official results, comma separated, when prompted by the program.
- 5 -Compare the hands generated this way with the hands actually played.

Declarer won with dummy's ace, cashed the ♦10 and played a club to the jack. When it held declarer cashed the ♣AK and exited with a club. North won, cashed the ♦8 and the ♠A and played a heart, two down, -200.

Hoping to find a singleton ♥J/10 in dummy, South led the ♥Q and when it held he cashed the ace and exited with the eight, declarer winning, cashing the ♥K as North discarded the ♠5. He cashed the ♦K and played a second diamond. When South discarded the ♠7 declarer went up with dummy's ace, played a spade to the king and a spade to the queen and ace. North returned the ♣3 and declarer finessed, cashed the ♣AK and then gave up - a flat board.

Do you see how 3NT can be made?

The declarer in the Open Room knew quite a lot - that South held a weak hand with both majors and had led from a four card suit. He also knew that North preferred spades to hearts and must have diamond support, as South might have had to rebid 3♦.

So, after two rounds of spades say declarer cashes the ♦K (in case the queen is singleton) and then plays a heart! If South wins, cashes the ♥A and continues with the ♥9 declarer ducks and is in control. If South exits with a fourth heart North will be squeezed giving declarer an overtrick.

Although there was no bidding by N/S in the other room declarer still had some information to work with. South had led from a five-card suit headed by the AQ, and given North's discard it was possible that South held four spades. If that were the case it was very unlikely that they were headed by the ace, as then South might have bid over 1NT.

So, after cashing the ♦K declarer should play the ♠K. If North wins and plays a club then declarer can finesse and then run the ♠9 after which there are nine top tricks.

Suppose declarer is worried about the possibility that South holds the ♣Q and wins North's club return? He then runs the ♠9, crosses to dummy with a diamond and cashes two spades. He then exits with the ♦J and North wins and plays a club, at which point declarer finesses and has nine tricks.

There are plenty of English language programmes on Portuguese TV- many of them are related to criminal investigations. The Round 8 encounter between Team Sara Silva and Sol Da Caparica was not without incident - let's investigate.

On the first deal of the match a soft defence allowed 2♠ to make at one table while in the replay N/S climbed all the way to 4♠ which went three down. That was 6 IMPs for Sara Silva.

Then with ♠A5 ♥J97 ♦K10976 ♣AK8 opposite ♠KQ743 ♥AKQ3 ♦2 ♣Q73 the N/S pairs reached 3NT and 6NT by North. Spades were 3-2 so Sol Da Caparica picked up 13 IMPs.

Clearly there was confusion about the meaning of the 5NT bid. It should be a grand slam try, promising that the partnership has all five key-cards and the queen of trumps.

You may be wondering why 7♠ was not doubled?

South was going to double in the hope of attracting a club lead, but North revealed that he held the ♠A by putting it to his forehead, after which South felt constrained to pass and North was enjoying himself far too much to double.

North led the ♣K and declarer won with dummy's ace, played a heart to the ace and ran the ♠6. South won and returned the ♣4, North winning and switching to the ♦9. Declarer took South's king with the ace and played a spade for the jack, king and ace. South's ♣J was the setting trick - or at least it should have been, but getting ahead of himself he forgot to cash it and exited with a diamond to lose 790.

I am sympathetic.

At a demonstration event in Ostend at this year's European Championship I was defending 3NT with ♥AKQ864 and led the ♥K. Dummy held three hearts and everyone followed. On the layout I thought the only hope of a seventh trick was in the club suit so after cashing six hearts I switched to a club. Or at least that was my intention, but in reality I forgot to cash the three little hearts, allowing 3NT to make.

East led the ♣K and declarer won with the ace and gave up a spade, after which it was easy to ruff two spades in dummy for eleven tricks.

A trump lead is a better start for the defence, but not enough to defeat the contract. Declarer wins and ducks a spade. He wins the trump return, unblocks the ♣A, ruffs a spade, ruffs a club and runs the diamonds. West will be forced down to the ♠A and ♥Q108 and now declarer cashes the ♥K and throws West in with a spade to lead into dummy's heart tenace.

had three spades to cash for four down and 14 IMPs, not enough to prevent Sol Da Caparica scoring a narrow victory.

Almost Perfect

David Burn

It's got to be...

Since everything else about the 21st Madeira Bridge Festival has been perfect (well, apart perhaps from the wind that on occasion does a better job of deterring invaders than the Maginot Line) I thought I would see what would have happened had the bridge been perfect also. That is: if instead of the horrors we actually perpetrated in the third session of the pairs, how would we have fared had we and our opponents all played perfect bridge?

The answer turned out to be "poorly". It is a simple matter with the scoring programs used here to determine how many matchpoints the par result on a deal would have achieved, and thus to calculate the percentage reward of perfection. On the 26 deals in question North-South could do no better than 48.7%, while an infallible East-West would at least have finished above average on 51.3%.

That nobody's perfect was illustrated by only three deals:

On board 9:

Board 9. Dealer North. E/W Vul.

♠ 8765	♠ QJ	♠ AK10942
♥ J	♥ AKQ3	♥ 1097
♦ K64	♦ 1053	♦ J72
♣ Q9863	♣ KJ74	♣ A
	♠ 3
	♥ 86542
	♦ AQ98
	♣ 1052

No one achieved the par result of N/S-100 in 5♥ doubled. Games could be, and were, made in both directions, often doubled. One North-South pair actually alighted in 5♥, but then human frailty took over in self-cancelling directions, because East-West didn't double but North-South went down two anyway (for 120/84 matchpoints).

On board 18:

Board 18. Dealer East. N/S Vul.

♠ Q7	♠ K952	♠ AJ6
♥ Q105432	♥ A6	♥ 87
♦ 83	♦ 752	♦ J109
♣ KJ8	♣ Q1054	♣ A7632
	♠ 10843
	♥ KJ9
	♦ AKQ64
	♣ 9

the par contract was again 5♥ doubled, this time by East-West as a save against 4♠ by North-South. The game was bid so infrequently that saving against it would pick up only 46/158 matchpoints, while letting it play collected 13/191.

On board 26

Board 26. Dealer East. All Vul.

♠ A4	♠ 96	♠ KQ108
♥ 932	♥ KJ104	♥ Q8
♦ J5	♦ Q2	♦ K109743
♣ AKJ843	♣ Q10765	♣ 9
	♠ J7532
	♥ A765
	♦ A86

The par contract was 2NT by East-West, making eight tricks. Though results ranged from 800 to North-South (from 3♣ doubled) to 1100 to East-West (from 3♥ doubled), and though contracts were attempted at every level from one to five, only two East-West pairs had the methods to reach the par spot. Unfortunately, doubtless exhausted by the exigencies of the auction, one of them went down one and the other down three.

There was a deal (board 5) on which absolute par was achieved by only one pair, giving North-South a complete bottom for defending 6NT. Another deal (board 12) saw the absolute par of 7NT (making on a 3-3 break and a guess in the endgame) achieved by two East-West pairs, for 1 matchpoint to North-South. The best North-South could do for achieving par was 181/204 matchpoints (on board 20, for ten tricks in 3NT – this was managed by a few pairs).

What does it all mean? Nothing very much, but at least those North-Souths who finished a little below average can console themselves with this thought: you're almost perfect.
