

20TH MADEIRA BRIDGE FESTIVAL

5

Editor Mark Horton
Layout Ron Tacchi

Day Night Matches

There is a subtle reason for today's headline – its full import will be revealed in tomorrow morning's Bulletin.

Meanwhile the players are getting ready for what is generally regarded as the toughest (and certainly the longest) day of the Festival, involving six matches. This year two matches from each round are featured on BBO and we have already seen some world champions in action.

Those who would like to discuss any of today's deals should come to Mark Horton's 'Mark Your Card' at 10.30 at Selvagens 1.

Winter is Coming

The 2nd edition of the European Winter Games will be played in Monaco's Hotel Fairmont, from February 17 to 23, 2018.

Bridge players from all WBF zones are entitled to participate in the Championships provided they are members in good standing of a National Bridge Federation (NBO).

Late entries will be accepted if there is sufficient space at the venue.

All entries to the Championships must be submitted electronically via the EBL Website (not by email): <http://db.eurobridge.org/Repository/competitions/18Monaco/microSite/participants.htm>

You can see who has already entered at:

<http://db.eurobridge.org/Repository/competitions/18Monaco/Reg/ParticipantsTeams.asp?qtournid=1480>

Important Note: Please bring your Vouchers to all events

It Happened one Night

Mark Horton reports on the first three rounds of the Teams Championships

It Happened One Night is a 1934 American romantic comedy film with elements of screwball comedy directed and co-produced by Frank Capra, in collaboration with Harry Cohn, in which a pampered socialite (Claudette Colbert) tries to get out from under her father's thumb and falls in love with a roguish reporter (Clark Gable).

It was the first movie to win all five major Academy Awards (Best Picture, Director, Actor, Actress, and Screenplay). In 2013, the film underwent an extensive restoration.

I doubt any of the deals I am going to report from last night's opening session of the Team Championship will be in line for an award, but that is hardly surprising when you try to engage your brain after 21.00 hours.

This year there are four BBO tables, allowing us to follow two matches each round.

Played by North 6♥ is a decent contract as declarer has time to test the clubs which may mean that there is no need to rely on the ace of diamonds being onside.

South should try 3♠ over 3♥, suggesting something useful in the suit as in our other featured match.

Babsch beat Team Six 15-5, 13.78-6.22 VP, while Onstein edged Don Bernado 16-11, 12.05-7.95 VP.

North led the ♦K and continued with the ace followed by the two, South ruffing and switching to clubs for two down, -300. That would have been okay were it not for the small detail that 4♥ was going to fail.

3♠	Pass	4♠	All Pass

I'm not sure what to make of 3♠ - but West could be certain his partner did not hold more than one heart which increased the likelihood that there would be five spades in the East hand. However, there was a major downside to introducing spades from the West hand as North was on lead and after a diamond to the ace and a diamond ruffed North exited with a spade and in due course the defenders collected two clubs for one down, +50.

After West's normal pass spades were introduced by East and South led a heart. After winning and drawing trumps, ten tricks were easy, +420 and 10 IMPs.

Onstein won this match against Jensen 30-0 which translated into 18.37-1.63 VP.

The last match of the night (or to be more accurate the first match of the following day) was the one that contained all the action.

2♣ majors

North’s persistence with his spades knowing West had at least four of them showed considerable bravery. The defence collected their three diamond tricks and three trump tricks to inflict a two trick defeat and 13 IMPs to Espada.

South led a heart and North won with the ace and returned the jack of clubs but declarer covered with the queen and now the contract was secure. A club lead would have defeated the contract out of hand.

With a five-loser hand North was more forward in his bidding and in response to Keycard Blackwood showed two keycards and a useful void, unfortunately for Elf Holdings it was not as useful as it might have been. On a diamond lead declarer attempted to set up the hearts immediately to provide discards for his two diamonds but East was up to the task. He took his ace and continued diamonds to his partner's ace and received a ruff to take the contract two down and win 11 IMPs.

At the end of the round Espada had won 28-6.
